My Church Is Marked For Destruction, My Son

My son, I Am with you. I called you from eternity, from before time began, My son. I Am your God. I know you. I called you to be a prophet from before time began. I have anointed you. You use it as a protection from the enemy, from the flesh, for the anointing breaks the yoke of the enemy, the flesh, My son. I called you to do My will. Few will do My will, My son. They all seek their own, not My will. Your prophecy was true: My Church refuses to do My will. I shall chastise it severely. Churches everywhere shall be empty coffins, for they have refused Me, the Living God. They all do their own thing, not My will, My son. I shall punish all who say "No" to Me, the Living God, both sinner and saint. All are marked to do My will, which few do. They are marked for destruction. I can no longer stand their insolence, their utter rebellion against Me, their Living God. Your God has spoken. Amen and amen, My son."
